COVID-19 UPDATE

We are monitoring the situation closely to ensure the safety of our employees. To date we have taken a range of steps including actions such as allowing employees to work remotely where possible. Other actions include restricting travel, restricting all non-essential visitors and clear advice to our employees in how they can mitigate the risks of COVID-19.

COJOT has an outsourced manufacturing designed for optimized supply, and to mitigate against risks such as local disruptive events, transportation or capacity problems. COJOT is not fully dependent on one location. COJOT is continuously monitoring the situation of logistics services available and will provide further updates as these become available.

COJOT as part of the Alaris Group has a strong balance sheet which will assist in getting through this tough financial time.
